Thanks for the update.

I'm glad things are finally moving forward. We were quite disappointed last week that there was optimistic talk but, in essence, no forward movement on getting this deal completed.

Our position is that we have no problem to work with you and hold the equipment beyond our agreed upon terms, as long as we know that you will honor your payment commitments within a reasonable time.

The payment for the 1st batch has been substantially delayed and we are now approaching the due date for payment of the 2nd batch.

Can you give us "Drop Dead" dates when we should expect both the 1st and 2nd payments?

Good morning Willy, +Todd.

Todd planned to call you last night but something must have come up. I'm leaving him a message now as I'm heading out of town today. I know that he will reach out today with an update. I have the team in place to manage the pick up while I'm out once the payment is made (copied here for awareness Scott and Joe).

Sorry for the delay and the missed opportunity to connect last night.
